Projects

Detecting TLS misconfiguration in Android Apps using dynamic analysis

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Nov. 2016

- Developed a framework to analyze android apps at runtime using Python
- Detected client side and server side TLS issues, making them MITM susceptible

In Process Caching

PUBMATIC

Jun. 2014

- Deprecated legacy Memcached caching mechanism and implemented multi layer caching for Ad Servers, and their protocol in C
- Increased throughput more than 2x, improved latency and is scalable.
- Implemented evictions, TCP interface, Cache Dump for LRU cache in C

Web Bot Detection and Filtering

2014

- Designed and Implemented 2 frameworks for protection against Web Bots in C
- Used the user agent string and public IPs of users and matched them against IAB bot list and data center public IPs of multiple providers
- Framework was realtime and used Trie Prefix and Pattern matching efficiency

Realtime Feedback based throttling

PUBMATIC

2016

- Developed as part of Pubmatic Hackathon which later went live
- Used adaptive learning to filter traffic at runtime
